

Drowning in my pride

We are about to say goodbye

This year was tough for us

I lost your love and trust

I hate that I hurt you

Infectious, left you bruised

Forgiveness, All I ask

You're right to be so mad

Our vision came to blur

You're fighting to be heard

The cure was loving you

I vowed to see more of you

Our children cry at night

Stuck at the border line

Your heart is made of glass

You shout behind the mask

I am sorry x10

Crashed and burned, we died.

Our girl said her goodbyes.

Our love was long and true,

Why'd it end with you?

Your beauty is defined,

By the woman that's inside.

You taught me how to dream,

I hate that I was so mean.

I lost what I had loved

I am destruction, I'm unjust

I'll be better, I can swear

I know this life is unfair

Just to have your strength,

Is a miracle, and faith,

Love, how are you fine?

This is my fault, it's mine.

I am sorry x10

I'm sorry there was no justice, Breonna.
I'm sorry you lost him forever, Gianna.
